THIRTY-FIFTH YEAR. NO. 25.

CEDARVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY JUNE 21, 1912.

PRICE, $1.00 A YEAR.

REFORMERS BETRAY THEIR CAUSE.

To God!
What political trick is to be turned next?

What job is there to do that a former henchman of Ed. Schmidt should be foisted upon the people by so-called reformers and given a seat on the County Board of Elections?

Wake up, people, wake up! Your servants, the lily-white, pure-hearted Republican executive committee, commissioned by the "people" as a reform body, has sold its garb and betrayed the cause of reform in the recommendation of the "pussy-footed" John Baughn, a political non-descript of Jamestown, that has time and time again been repudiated by his home people.

How in the name of all that is good and life could any member of the Executive Committee vote to endorse this scoundrel who is more than this weekly crisis would ever attempt to explain. We can let the matter pass here by saying that we challenge any member of this committee, or the committee as a whole, to write a justification of such a recommendation, and we will give it equal prominence.

Who is John Baughn anyway? What has been his past political history and what is his commercial standing in his own community?

Two years ago the central committee was wrestled from the Schmidt-Shoup gang. Some of us who believed that there should be a change in political affairs endeavored to place the committee on a higher plain and lift it from the cess pool of foul politics. Good progress was made for a time. John Baughn was trusted with the power that follows the head of this committee.

It was then that we discovered John Baughn as he really is. A double-dealing, deceiving, contemptible ass that would put to blush the blackest imp in hell and paralyze the modesty of his Satanic Majesty. And such an unmitigated, mangy, lousy cuss recommended by a committee for a responsible position in the name of REFORM!

It was this same John Baughn that helped to wreck the reform ship two years ago or more. Then it was John Baughn for John Baughn and it will be so today. Kicked from the Schmidt gang for unfaithfulness, picked up by reformers, only to betray them, and the reform cause again must suffer for the prostitution of this ingrate who has been delegated with great power, not for REFORM, but to gratify the political aspirations of a number of county officials, and waste time in building a machine after the model of the Schmidt-Shoup machine recently demolished. There is no justification of placing John Baughn on the election board, and knowing the situation as we do there never has been the remotest idea on the part of the so-called reform managers that Baughn would infuse any reforms other than extending the power of this clan that is driven by hunger for political control and domination of Republican politics in this county.

It is a disgrace that men honest in their effort to help right wrongs in the county should have their hopes blasted in this manner. What incentive is there to battle on in this political struggle when such barnacles are fastened upon the people by supposed friends of the cause? Do not become sickened, disheartened, but fight on and center your forces against the betrayers of the people's cause. The liberty loving, patriotic, sincere law-abiding citizens will not.

Should Provide For Schools.

The Budget tax commission in the county, composed of County Auditor Dean, Prosecuting Attorney Johnson and Mayor Dodds, will meet Monday to equalize the tax levies of the various taxing districts in the county. Deputy Auditor Walter McGarvey is secretary of the commission and will have the various budgets for the coming meeting all figured out.

Under the new law, village councils, boards of education and township officials are at the mercy of this body for revenue in the conduct of public affairs.

The law provides that there can be five mills set aside for schools but this was not done last year and it is probable that the schools will be cut short again. Two county officials and one municipal official to settle on a basis of funds for the villages and schools, speaks for itself why there has not been a sufficient amount of money raised.

It is significant that while schools were starving for funds this past year, various county officials asked for more money to conduct the offices. The commissioners refused to grant the increase and on appeal to common pleas court cut the requests to less than half.

If the tax commission wants to strike a popular cord let the full five mills be granted the school boards and let the county officials struggle for theirs next year. The only people we know of that will condemn the tax commission will be the county officials.

Were Married In Kentucky.

A telegram was received by the Herald Wednesday evening from the Cincinnati Enquirer announcing the marriage of Miss Nellie McMillan of this place to Mr. Carl Buckles, of Jamestown, at Covington, Ky.

The couple left here that morning supposedly for Springfield to attend the encampment at that city, but instead they went to Cincinnati Wednesday evening they arrived in Springfield.

The bride has been a telephone operator at the local exchange and is the daughter of Mrs. Rose McMillan, who was unaware that the marriage was to take place so soon. Mr. Buckles is the son of a Jamestown harness maker and is trap drummer in the Jamestown Orchestra.

MAYOR'S NOTICE.

To the owners of lots and lands in the village of Cedarville, Ohio. In compliance with the requirements of Section 4782-A of the Revised Statutes, I hereby notify the owners of lots and lands in the village of Cedarville to cut and destroy all Canada and common thistles and other noxious weeds growing on any such lots and land within the corporation, so that they may not mature seed or spread to adjoining lots. On failure of any such owner to comply with the law in regard here-to the village council may employ persons to cut and destroy said noxious weeds and the expenses thereof will be a lien on said lots and lands and collected as taxes.

L. G. Bull,

Mayor of Village of Cedarville, O. May 5, 1912.

NECESSITY FOR GOOD ROADS.

It is only a few years ago that the roads in Ohio were, in the country and a large part of the urban districts, almost without exception, a dust-laden and a snare. The people bore the discomfort, which arose from this, because they knew of nothing better and it had become a fixed custom to expect that when one went driving the wheels would probably sink to the hubs in mud and a part of the harness give way.

When a farmer started for town, with a load of produce, the time of his return was uncertain. It depended largely upon whether the sun shone or a rain storm developed. If the latter a sufficient excuse was furnished to remain away all night and there were no embarrassing questions from the good house wife. The condition of the roads was enough.

There was no thought in the minds of the people that annually from $10,000,000 to $12,000,000 were being lost because of the inadequate means of transportation and that in the end they, themselves, were compelled to pay for this. They had always had bad roads and accepted the belief that such would continue to be the case.

But a change has come. In a great many localities where the husbandman leaves his farm for town his horses trot along over improved highways of modern construction and he can sit in quiet contentment and cheerily view the landscape at peace with himself and the world. The city resident is no less the beneficiary. He can now drive out in the evening or on Sunday's in those places where good roads have been established, without danger of breakdown or ruffled temper.

Every right minded person loves a horse. If the reverse is true there is something wrong in the mental makeup. Many men would be out of employment with empty pockets if it were not for these faithful animals who plod and pull and toil at their masters bidding too often under lash of whip with scanty food, awaiting them at the end of work. To the horses good roads are a boon; likewise to the owners for they lengthen the life of service while increasing by far the total of tonnage which the horse can draw. The amount of money which would annually be saved to owners in this way cannot be estimated but it would reach into large figures.

There is a great work being done in this state along the lines of road improvement, a work of which the people in general have but small conception, and for which they share no blame since it has not been brought to them as a face to face question, the solution of which lies with them alone.

Through the operations of the Ohio Good Roads Federation of which Archibald H. Huston, of Columbus, is president; former State Senator W. A. Aldorf, of Johnston, state superintendent, and with which such men as James R. Marker, of Greenville, State Highway Commissioner; L. P. Sandles, of Ottawa, State Commissioner of Agriculture; Jesse Taylor, of Jamestown, and others of prominence are officially connected, a movement has been put under full headway to give this state the best system of highways in the Union.

Now, there is hardly a person in Ohio that is not interested in this and who will not be directly affected by the outcome. Everybody uses the roads more or less each year, if not in a buggy or a wagon of an automobile then on foot. Children walk to school and in the places where the roads are poor they often have a most vexatious time. Sometimes, perhaps, the condition is such that they are forced to remain at home and thus secure a holiday.

In places where good roads have been established walking is no longer a hardship, except in time of rain and then the old family horse can be hitched up and jog along with no more inconvenience than the patter of rain drops upon his back.

Every resident of the rural districts knows that where unimproved highways prevail there are several months in each year when it is impossible to take produce to market but it must still in barn, or crib, or cellar, through the long winter period, where roads of modern construction are in use there is not a time when the urban center is out of reach.

From every standpoint and every angle, which looks towards economy and the public weal good roads must appeal. They mean a saving both physically and financially. The question is one which comes straight home to the pocketbook and means that the pocketbook will grow. It is the purpose of the Federation to have put in use such a system as will ultimately make every road in the state a good one, so that one can drive from any position of Ohio to another and find no mud the entire way. At the primaries in September the voters will be called upon to ratify a clause in the new Constitution authorizing the issuance of $50,000,000 in bonds for the carrying on of the work. This seems large at first glance but in reality the average cost per capita annually will be but fifty-three cents and this will be divided in proportion to a man's means, so that the small property owner will not pay so much as he of greater wealth. The tax levy will start at one-tenth of a mill and never go beyond four-tenths.

Not so great a burden after all and nothing compared to the saving and good results which will be the outcome.

Broadstone Gets The Nomination.

M. A. Broadstone was nominated at the Republican convention in Washington C. H. last Friday for State Senator from the Fifty-Sixth Senatorial District.

As it was Greene county's turn to furnish the candidate all the counties supported Mr. Broadstone but Clinton, which voted for Morris Rice, of Osborn, who had been placed in nomination by Mr. A. H. Creswell, of the Greene county delegation. Mr. Creswell was the only member to support Rice except the Hildrebrand delegation which holds a grudge against this county as a result of Greene county refusing to stand for high-handed methods in the congressional convention when Judge Scroggy was nominated several years ago.

Since that time the Hildrebrand followers, who are known as the gang in Clinton county, and a genuine one at that, have had their ax out for any candidate from Greene county. Rice was given the vote knowing that he would be defeated, but revenge was sought against Broadstone, who led the fight that dethroned the Hildrebrands when Scroggy was nominated.

Postmaster S. C. Wright has purchased the A. Bradford property, on Bridge street, from Rev. H. C. Weakley, administrator of the estate of Susan Bradford, who willed the property to the M. E. church for the aged in Cincinnati. The consideration is given at $1,100. Mr. Wright announces that he will improve the property before moving into it. Residents along that street are considering laying cement walks. The U. P. parsonage and the W. J. Tarbox residence are outside of the corporation, but will likely be taken in soon. There are no walks along that street and the proposed improvement will be greatly appreciated by all.

You are no doubt in need of summer shoes, hats, clothing, furnishings, underwear, etc., and the best selections in the county can be found at Kelble's, 45 and 49 West Main street, Xenia. Paying for cash and selling for cash enable low prices. Our stocks come from the largest and best manufacturers and are guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction. We have been in business 26 years and have been able to build up a business through our close buying that has met with the approval of the people.

This section was visited by a heavy wind storm and rain early Sabbath morning and again about twelve o'clock that did some damage in this section to fruit and shade trees. At Old Town the M. E. church was unroofed and the Springfield and Xenia Traction line was put out of business for about twenty-four hours, owing to poles being down along the line. Springfield and Dayton were greater sufferers by damage than this locality. Many houses and barns were overturned, damaged and demolished.

NOMINATION GOES TO PRESIDENT.

By the time this paper reaches its readers it is almost certain that President Taft will be nominated by the Chicago convention.

It is conceded by the Roosevelt followers that there is no hope of success at this time. The dark horse talk has died away, leaving the Taft people full sway.

Col. Roosevelt has advised his friends against a bolt but announces the formation of a new political party to be called the "Progressive Party" and an appeal has been made to the progressive of all political parties to join this movement. A convention of this party will be held in Chicago about the first of August and it is expected that Roosevelt will be nominated at that time and plans made for independent or progressive Republican tickets in every state and congressional district.

It is natural that Col. Roosevelt would want to uproot things.

Never was the smile of Mr. Bryan more childlike and bland than it is at the present time.

The high cost of living is not to be compared to the high cost of getting delegates, if all Chicago patches are correct.

There is every indication that the Fourth in Cedarville will be safe and sane for we are not promised a celebration of any kind.

Clinton county still continues to keep up the factional strife against Greene county as shown when the Hildebrand people refused to vote with the other counties for a Greene county candidate for Senator. Reform is an unknown term to the Hildebrand faction, in fact they have no use for the word or what it typifies. From this Morris Rice, of Osborn, can get little comfort in his support from that gang. It was the utter hatred against Broadtoppe that caused Hildebrand to cast the county vote in favor of Rice.

LESSON FOR JUNE 23

THE PENITENT WOMAN.

LESSON TEXT—Luke 7:36-50.
GOLDEN TEXT—"Faithful is the saying and worthy of all acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners."—1 Tim. 1:15.

Jesus had accepted an invitation to visit the home of the aristocrat Simon, but instead of being treated with courtesy he is humiliated by studied neglect and insult. There was one, however, who fully appreciated his real worth, a woman of the street who had doubtless seen him enter or else observed him at meat through the open doorway. Knowing him to be one thing, but to love him is quite another. Do not confound this woman with Mary Magdalene, there is no connection at all. Jesus always drew to himself the sinful ones. It was for that purpose he came into the world, to bear our sins (Matt. 1:21; Isa. 53:6). This woman was, however, a sinner who no longer ran after her sin, but one who was repentant. This is shown by (1) her sorrow (weeping), (2) her humble service (rubbing his feet), and (3) her gift of love (the alabaster box), this latter having undoubtedly been an accessory of her life of sin, but now devoted to a more noble use. As the odor filled the house the self-satisfied Pharisee spoke "within himself," but he who discerns the thoughts and intents of the heart knew not only how great a sinner she had been, but knew also the cloak of self-righteousness worn by Simon. Her purity and holiness had been shattered like the alabaster box and Jesus proceeds to shatter Simon's shell of self complacency by putting forth one of his matchless parables.

Jesus speaks to Simon.
A certain creditor, undoubtedly meaning himself, had two debtors; by inference this woman and this Pharisee. Both alike were bankrupt, one owed about $500 and the other ten times as much, about $5000. Both alike, however, received forgiveness. "Tell me," says the Master, "which debtor will love most?" The Pharisee's reply was the logical one; they both depend upon the mercy of the creditor, hence the gratitude will be in ratio to the amount forgiven. Much had been forgiven, received much forgiveness. Jesus immediately turns the Pharisee's answer to a practical application. Taking the words out of Simon's mouth, he makes one of the most complete and practical applications of applied Christianity in the gospel record. "To paraphrase Jesus says: 'Simon, I came into your house and the most common courtesy of washing a guest's feet you neglected, yet this woman has washed my feet with her tears, an evidence of her repentance, while you sit there with dried, cold, and wrinkled feet. She wiped my feet with the hairs of her head, her glory and crown has been laid at my feet while you have not so much as offered me a towel to wipe the dust off my feet as I left my sandals at your door. Simon you gave me no kiss, that custom mark of a courteous welcome, yet this woman has not ceased to kiss my feet since the time I came into your house. The anointing oil, common olive oil, you neglected to use, yet the precious oil of her treasure she has thankfully poured upon my feet. Simon, your life is a life of works so are these acts of this woman, but your life is one of zeal while her acts have been prompted by love.'

In another place Jesus tells us that if we love him we will do the things he commands us and that he and the Father will come and abide with us. Here was the heroic love of one who having lost her shame dared to thrust herself into an unbidden house of refreshment and perform those neglected mental duties, the result of which was that reward for her faith that had been promised to her sins. By her attention to these duties she was unconsciously rebuking the vanity of Simon's self merit while at the same time she was showing to the world a fine example of the gratitude of a saved one. Paul later expressed it most forcibly in the fourth chapter of his letter to the Romans.

The Great Creditor.
This woman knew she had no merit of her own and hence she threw herself at the feet of Jesus, claimed his righteousness and compassion and at the same time by her acts she showed the attitude of her heart and of course she had the desire of her heart. It has always been so for has not the Master said, "Happy are they who hunger and thirst after righteousness, for they shall be fed?"

After this "practical sermon of applied Christianity" to Simon, Jesus turns to the woman, nameless so far as the Scripture record is concerned, and with infinite and heavenly thrill in his voice he said: "Thy faith hath saved thee, go in peace." "Who is the creator," they asked.

Jesus teaches us that though there be degrees of guilt, all alike must come to God for forgiveness. Also that he, the Great Creator, is the one to whom we owe our debt of sins and who alone can without merit discharge that debt and send us forth in peace.

"Dr. Miles' Nervine Completely Cured Our Little Boy of Fits."

A family can suffer no greater affliction than to have a child subject to fits or epilepsy. Many a father or mother would give their all to restore such a child to health.

"I am heartily glad to tell you of our little boy who was completely cured of his. He commenced having them at two years of age and had them for four years. I tried three doctors and one specialist but all of them said he could not be cured, but Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills made a complete cure. He is now hale, hearty and gay. It has been three years since he had the last spell. I said give Dr. Miles' medicines praise wherever I go. You are at liberty to use this letter as you see fit and anyone writing to me I will gladly answer if they enclose stamp for reply."—Mr. ROGUE, Windfall, Ind.

Dr. Miles' Nervine

is just what it is represented to be, a medicine compounded especially for nervous diseases, such as fits, spasms, St. Vitus' dance, convulsions and epilepsy. These diseases frequently lead to insanity or cause weak minds. Dr. Miles' Nervine has proven most effective in relieving these dreaded maladies.

Sold by all druggists. If the first bottle fails to benefit your money is returned.

Morgan if living, whose place of residence is unknown, if dead his unknown heirs at law whose places of residence are unknown, are hereby notified that, on the 6th day of June, 1912, Oscar L. Smith filed his petition in the Court of Common Pleas, Greene County, Ohio, against them and other defendants in which said petition it is alleged that the said Oscar L. Smith is the owner in fee simple of certain real estate situated in the Village of Cedarville, Ohio, and located at the intersection of Main and Church Streets, said premises being bounded on the West by Main Street, on the North by Church Street, on the East by Walnut Street, and on the South by an alley, and that the intended and attempted conveyances of said premises by certain deeds referred to in the petition, said premises have been erroneously described as lots 66, 67 and 68 of John Orr's Third addition to the Village of Cedarville, Ohio; that by reason of said erroneous description of said premises in said deeds, the defendants claim an interest in said premises adverse to plaintiff's right, title and interest therein. The prayer of said petition is that the claim of the defendants respectively in and to said premises may be adjudged null and void; that plaintiff's title may be quieted as against same, and that said deeds may be reformed to comply with the proper description of the premises and the intention of the parties to said deeds. Said defendants are notified that they are required to answer said petition on or before the 17th day of August, 1912, or judgment will be taken against them in accordance with the prayer of the petition.
